

Train with Truck Marketing Institute

Graduates of TMI are confident in their product knowledge and ability to meet the requirements of the toughest applications and the most demanding fleet buyers.

Since 1964 more than 62,300 graduates of TMI have been trained in truck selection and application: How to spec trucks — the meaning of the terminology, the intricacies of the product, and how to interpret and compare specifications.

The Goal: Sales Professionals

TMI is a great way to expand and improve your sales force. Get new truck personnel up-and-running in a short time, and provide continuation training for truck specialists who need to stay ahead in a world of change.

Gain Product Knowledge

A part of the Precision Truck Training course focus is truck fundamentals and procedures for truck selection and application. Another part is learning and applying product knowledge gained from the International data book.

The “Classroom” Comes to the Student

TMI students make the best use of their time. Correspondence courses allow them to stay on the job while completing flexible, self-paced training using the printed TMI textbook or the optional “eBook” version available for Training Unit 2 and Unit 3. The 10-lesson Training Unit 1 can be completed in as little as 45 hours of study time. Training Units 2 and 3 are also 10-lessons, these courses can be completed with about 50 to 70 hours of study time.

Every student is a “class of one,” tutored expertly by a TMI instructor, who critiques the achievement test following each lesson. Test scores are normally returned one business day after the test arrives at TMI by fax or mail, using the prepaid envelopes provided.

Training Recommendations

Three Precision Truck courses make up the Training Unit package designed to move the International student along a study path starting with truck basics (Unit 1), then into medium duty diesels (Unit 2) and completing with a comprehensive course on heavy duty models (Unit 3). Newcomers to truck sales should take the three Unit package as initial product training. However, each Unit stands on its own, so an experienced person can take any Unit. Please review the highlights of each Unit below.

UNIT 1: Truck Basics. Excellent introductory course to gain medium-duty truck knowledge. Product training concentrates on the International DuraStar and WorkStar model lines. Students must have access to and will learn where to find information using your International CT-400 sales data reference. (Textbook: Precision Truck Selling, Course II).

UNIT 2: Medium Diesel Models. Class 5-6-7 diesel models are thoroughly covered here. Students answer questions on the International product and on competitive makes including the imports. The course is self-contained using TMI’s Truck Data Digest for medium duty product information. (Textbook: Precision Truck Selling, Course IV).

UNIT 3: Heavy Duty Models. Complete coverage of heavy duty Class 8 straight truck and tractor applications constitutes this course. Students will be asked to furnish International product answers to the truck application questions, so the CT-400 will be needed. (Textbook: Precision Truck Training, Course III).

Enrollments and Tuition

Enroll any time throughout the year. TMI’s Precision Truck courses are a vital investment in heavy truck selection knowledge and the cost is reasonable—with no travel time or added costs. The courses include everything except the data book. Discounts are available for five or more enrollments. Refer to “Group Enrollment Discounts” on the application form.

Business sponsored enrollments are treated as company property. If an active course is not completed for any reason, the value of the “unused” lessons can be credited to enroll another employee.
